

Build Stadium By All Means, Ogden Citizens Declare

Standard-Examiner Conducts Survey of Sentiment Here Toward Municipal Athletic Field

Does Ogden want the proposed municipal stadium?

This question was propounded by the Standard-Examiner to representatives of the citizens of Ogden and all substantially the same result. "By all means let's have an athletic field and stadium," and in the words of District Judge A. W. Agge, "as a matter of civic pride it should be built and maintained by the city."

Expressions from these citizens are given as follows: Postmaster George E. Browning—"I am heartily in favor of anything which will benefit Ogden and I believe a stadium is needed. If the city can give positive assurance that it will reimburse the business men, it should be built."

Sheriff H. C. Peterson—"We need an athletic field for the boys and girls. However, it should be assured that the city will maintain it in proper shape after it is built, otherwise it will be of little value."

Mayor Frank Francis—"Eventually the city will have to have a stadium. We must have a place for high school and college athletics, where young menhood may be built and make for better citizenship and happier communities. The city will reimburse those who will build such a stadium."

County Clerk Walter N. Farr—"I am in favor of a stadium, but I think that an auditorium should be built first. Where automobile shows and other exhibits could be held. In this idea, I believe I am stating the sentiment of more than fifty persons whom I know and who are in favor of having an auditorium."

Judge A. W. Agge—"A stadium is needed and whether a football field for the city it could be built and maintained properly. As a matter of civic pride we ought to have a municipal stadium."

A. V. McIntosh, cashier Utah National bank—"The stadium idea is a good one and should be developed for the good of the community. A city of this size should have a thing of this kind."

C. A. Wright of W. H. Wright and Son's store—"There is no doubt about the desirability of a stadium as suggested. We need it badly and if funds can be raised, it should be built. However, whether it would be wise to build it at the present time, with conditions as they are, is a matter of serious consideration."

Scout Executive G. A. Goates—"The stadium is one phase of improvement for the city that should be erected at once. Ogden is fast growing and her youths must have a playground. A stadium as planned would be of great credit to the community and should by all means be constructed."

"The athletes of the Ogden high school and Weber Normal college have long been without an adequate athletic field," said Coach Alvin Watson of Weber, "and the stadium will in every way answer the purpose. I am heartily in favor of such a move and only hope that the citizens of Ogden and the city officials will take steps to put the plans over the top."

O. J. Sullivan, secretary Ogden Chamber of Commerce—"Simply great. The stadium idea was originated here some time ago and by all means should be carried out. With its erection the wild west show may be staged annually, the athletes of the schools will have an up-to-date athletic field, and the citizens of Ogden will be benefited to a great extent. It is my one hope that the plans will be completed at once and work started."

"Now that the ball is rolling, let's put over the good work and give Ogden a first-class athletic park," said Capt. W. Earl Hopkins of the Ogden baseball team. "The city officials and athletes are best told by the athletes and in my estimation their needs were never greater than at the present time. Ogden needs a first-class athletic field and I will lend my aid in perfecting the plans started."

A. L. Glasmann, editor Standard-Examiner—"Attempts have been made on several occasions for the erection of a stadium or a first-class athletic park in Ogden, but all attempts have failed. Personally I am highly in favor of such a move and hope that the city officials and the citizens of Ogden will take enough interest in the plans to aid in the work as outlined. This city has always had first-class athletes despite the fact that the conditions were far from being first-class and many fans of the city are wondering just what kind of athletic aggregations Ogden could have if her athletes could have first-class training and playing fields. It will be one of the best moves in the history of the city and will aid in many ways in placing Ogden to the fore."

"Just the thing for Ogden," said Otis Weeks, division engineer for the Southern Pacific lines. "The live wires have at last started a ball rolling and now that their work is started, co-operation is needed in order that success may be spelled. It will when completed be one of the great improvements for the city in the history of Ogden and will give the athletes of the city a place of such a nature."

Life and finger rule in any man's yard and the plans as outlined for the stadium should place Ogden to the front in the world of competition," said Richard Barrett, owner of the Horton cafe. "The athletes of the city have needed just such a place for years and for many years have been laboring under adverse conditions. Something would please me better than to see a stadium erected, a place where entertainment can be held and where the fans may witness some of the world's greatest athletes. It is indeed a great undertaking, but for one I am hoping that the plans will mature and that Ogden will at last have a first-class stadium."

Rey John Edward Carver—"If Ogden is ever to aspire to entertaining any number of people at any kind of an outdoor meet we all know there must be adequate and modern facilities for seating the many who will come to see the athletes. Therefore, it is plain that one of the first steps to the start of any event that is of more than very local interest is to have a stadium. We believe the time is ripe for Ogden to attempt immediately events and then stadium is a good beginning. Moreover, community service can not only help in this event, but will be glad to do more than its part in providing such facilities as a community service did in the recent rose festival in Portland."

R. H. Wells, business manager Ogden baseball club—"Ogden is badly in need of a stadium and no one can really live better than members of the Ogden baseball club. The players grounds at Lorty Park park are in fair shape, but with the lack of fence baseball playing to a crowd is just about out of the question. It is needed and with the work started for such an elaborate structure, let's all aid in putting the finishing touches to the proposition."

Protestant Churches to Meet in Salt Lake

Plans are in formation for a conference and convention of the workers of the various protestant churches of Utah to be held in Salt Lake City the first week of September. It was announced here yesterday. The meetings will be held in the buildings of Westminster college and sessions will convene at 10 a. m. at 2 p. m. and at 8 o'clock. The morning and afternoon sessions will be of a constructive nature and the evenings will be given to addresses of a more popular nature.

Plans are under way for the accommodation of all who wish to attend by furnishing board in the college dormitories. The rate will be very reasonable, and only enough charged to cover the cost. It is said. There will be no price charged for the meetings.

Notices are being sent to all the churches in the state regarding this conference, and it is now expected that the workers of the churches in the Ogden area will be present.

There is an attempt being made to make this an annual event in the state, and if this is done, Ogden churches may bring some of the yearly conferences here.

Democratic National Officer Goes to Butte

Bruce Cramer, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, was in Ogden Friday night en route to Butte. "Cox and Roosevelt will give Harding and Coolidge a stubborn race for election," Mr. Cramer said, "and, of course, we are backing them to win."

After a short rest from the arduous duties of the national convention, Cramer will leave Butte and go on to a conference with Chairman Homer Cummings and the Democratic nominees.

HARDING OPENS "FRONT PORCH" CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENCY

MARION, Ohio.—Warren G. Harding opened his "front-porch campaign" for the presidency on July 5th, the day of his arrival, with an address to citizens of Marion who welcomed him home. These exclusive photographs by Staff Photographer Bob Dorman, tell the story above, a view of the crowd listening to Harding's speech. Arrow points to Harding. Left, a glimpse of Harding speaking from the front porch of his home. Here he expects to deliver his important campaign addresses. Right, Dr. C. J. Nichols, former "Republican" mayor of Marion, listens to the speech. Nichols and Harding have never wholly "jibed" in local politics, but Nichols is for Harding this time.

OUTDOOR PLAYS SCORE SUCCESS

Community Service Achieves Remarkable Results in Ogden

"This past week has been one of distinct advance for the Community Service in Ogden," said Rev. John Edward Carver, Ogden director, yesterday. "It does seem as if the long-cherished dream of the ones who have stood by community service here are about to be realized. What is most encouraging is the fact that the workers of the community service are more optimistic regarding the possibilities and probabilities than even the most enthusiastic of the local community."

Miss Josephine Randall has more than fulfilled all that was hoped when she was secured to initiate the play program of demonstration in Ogden. The two hours of play leadership each day this past week has made many friends in the movement. Miss Randall has met a large number of children each morning on Lester park and a goodly number each night on City Hall park. The park custodians have been true helpers and done all in their power to assist. Mayor Francis, Commissioners Flygare and Ward have given every possible aid and the result is that if seniors here it would be a definite foundation made for permanent work. The classes held each morning in the Madison school have been well attended. Miss Randall is optimistic regarding the talents of those taking the course.

"Saturday there was an innovation in the way of story-telling. Miss Randall and Miss Henderson, dressed as gypsies, met goodly groups of little ones on the depot grounds and out at Twelfth and Washington avenues, and gave them an hour's story telling and games. This is the commencement of the taking of community play to the several communities."

R. W. Arbury, recently in charge of the Community Service in Portland and assistant in the rose carnival in Ogden for an indefinite period, will make this his home. Community Service is over the top. What is even added news is the late report that national headquarters is going to send two more workers here to assist in making Ogden one of the 300 cities where Community Service is regarded as essential as the service of the fire department and police."

Deaths and Funerals

BARKER—Funeral cortege for Charles L. Barker will leave the Kirkendall funeral chapel today at 6 o'clock. The body will be taken to the Mountain View cemetery and Rev. J. E. Carver will officiate at the grave. The body may be viewed at the chapel Saturday evening and Sunday until 6 o'clock.

AMBLER—Funeral services for Kate Ambler were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the Tenth ward meeting house with Bishop T. P. Terry officiating. "A Perfect Day" and "The Christian's Good-night" were sung by Mrs. Art S. Blakely. George Klomp sang "Some Time We'll Understand." The speakers were W. S. Paine and N. J. Harris. Interment was in the Ogden City cemetery with Bishop Terry dedicating the grave.

BARKER—Funeral services for Charles L. Barker will be held from the Kirkendall Undertaking parlors at 6 o'clock this evening. Interment will be made at Mountain View cemetery with the Rev. John E. Carver officiating. The remains may be viewed today at the Kirkendall parlors.

Millionaire Tramp to Address Public Here at City Hall Tonight

James Eads Howe, the "Millionaire Tramp" whose activities in behalf of migratory and seasonal workers has made him a national figure, is in Ogden. Howe will speak at 8 o'clock this evening on the city hall square. His subject will be "The Political Situation Today, in its Bearing on Labor." The Millionaire Tramp is no stranger in Ogden. He was here in 1915 where he conducted an organized relief campaign for the army of the unemployed during the depression, which followed the outbreak of the world war.

He has lived the life of the tramp and knows what that class suffers, enjoys and thinks of the world. Howe gained much newspaper publicity from his establishment of the "Hotel de Gink" in Chicago. This is a hotel for hoboes.

DEMOCRATS TO PICK CHAIRMAN

Meeting Next Saturday to Announce Candidacy of Welling for Senator

Democrat leaders of Ogden will meet next Saturday to choose a county chairman, succeeding Lorenzo Richards, who resigned to take up residence in Salt Lake. The meeting was set for yesterday but was postponed. Following the conference next Saturday, the candidates of Congressmen for United States Senator to oppose Senator Reed Smoot will be announced, local Democrats said.
